Russell circuit court closed last week. There was but little business during the term. The people of Russell county are law-abiding, and have but little need for courts.

Sheriff J. W. Hurt is adding greatly to the appearance of his residence near this city, by raising the ell part another story. J. L. McLean is assisting by R. Reynolds in doing the work.

It is astonishing how fast cattle accumulate in this section. A month ago buyers were over the country and when they left for the market it was reported that the cattle were all gathered. In the last two weeks six or seven large droves have passed through town.

Death of Mr. John Holladay.

Last Wednesday a telegram reached Columbia stating that Mr. John Holladay, one of Adair county's best citizens was dead. He died in a little town in Alabama, about seventy-five miles from the city of Montgomery. On Tuesday his wife was notified by wire that he was dangerously ill, and she, accompanied by her brother, Mr. Frank Waggoner, started immediately to reach his bedside, but the death summons was obeyed before they reached the scene, and the corpse was in shipment for this place. The heartbroken wife and brother-in-law met the remains in transit, arriving here Saturday afternoon. The funeral services were held at the late residence of the deceased and the body buried near his home. About three weeks before Mr. Holladay's death he left Columbia in company with his brother, Anderson, having two car-loads of mules in Lincoln county which they shipped to the Southern markets. When they reached the South the brothers divided their stock, going to different points. Up to the time the body of Mr. John Holladay reached this place his brother, Anderson, had not heard of his death. Mr. Holladay was in perfect health when he left Columbia and it was remarked by his friends that he was looking unusually well. Since his demise word has been received that he was stricken with paralysis, and so great was the shock human aid could not relieve him. He was about 54 years of age, and was a citizen who will be greatly missed. His widow and children, brothers and sisters, have the deepest sympathy of all the people of Adair county. It was here where he was reared, and to his posterity he leaves an honorable name.

Rev. E. W. Barnett preached his farewell sermon last Sunday to his church in this town. It was an interesting discourse delivered in his usual characteristic manner—that of great earnestness. His stay here was six years and five months and in all that time he labored continually for the advancement of his churches and the salvation of sinners. No one can complain that he did not do his duty, as he saw it, no one can question his zeal for the Master's cause or say that he was indifferent to the public good. While he has had some unpleasant conditions to face and some hard questions to decide, yet his pastorate, in the main, has given satisfaction to his churches, and a large majority of his members regret that he leaves us, but their good will and prayers will go with him to his new field of work. He came direct from the Baptist Seminary to this town, young in years and young in the ministry, but he soon showed that he was fitted for this great work both in heart and head. With that liberal and broad education, with the experience of six years in the work and the energy and zeal he possesses, the church at Jellico should thrive and that section be blessed by his pastorate which will begin in a week or so. The good will of the News will accompany him.

There will be preaching at the following places next Sunday:—T. F. Walton, this city; E. W. Barnett, Gradyville; W. S. Dudgeon, Bethlehem; J. O. Puck, Pleasant View; F. C. Shearer, Hutchison school-house; H. T. Jesse, Price's Chapel; Tobias Huffaker, Neatsburg; G. W. Montgomery, Knifley; W. P. Gordon, Milltown, morning; Pollard's chapel evening; T. L. Hulse, Pleasant Ridge.

Last Saturday night week at Pellyton, this county, a Democratic club was organized. While the organization was being perfected some scoundrel or scoundrels went to the rack where the horses were hitched, and with knives, removed several saddle skirts. Mr. John Campbell informs us that it is almost certainly known who the guilty parties are, and when the facts are brought out they will be prosecuted.

Why experiment on yourself with remedies of doubtful utility when you can get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which has stood the test of time? Twenty-five years' sale and use have proven that remedy to be a prompt and certain cure for colds. It will cure a cold in a day if taken as soon as the cold has been contracted and before it has settled in the system. Sold by M. Cravens.

We want the first issue of the Rowena Hot Times. A publication soon to appear, that is if it ever does, but whether it comes early or late, we expect a breezy sheet.

Now is a good time for overseers to put their roads in trim. A little work on the Stauffer road beyond the creek would save many hard kicks next spring. Mr. James F. what thickest thou?

Call and see my line of men's and boy's clothing and overcoats—by far the best line we have ever shown. My Buck-eye pants are up to date in fit and style.

W. L. WALKER.

We have received a large number of subscribers since our last report, and the following are the ones who paid:

Persons visiting Louisville at this time, and stopping at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, will be happily surprised at the improvement of the interior of the building. All the rooms have been newly papered and painted, and the dining-room especially is very attractive. This hotel is managed by Mr. Pike Campbell, who is ably assisted by Mr. Arthur O. St. Clair, who do every thing in their power for the comfortable accommodation of guests. The hotel is home-like, the table supplied with the best the market affords, and all the attaches courteous and polite, stop at this hotel when in the city and be convinced that the above statement is correct.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Krieger & Miller, wholesale dealers in saddles, harness, etc., Louisville. This firm carries an immense stock and is having a fine run of trade. Mr. Jo Hill, of Columbia, a popular gentleman throughout this section of the State, represents this firm, and about the first of November he will commence visiting merchants in all our adjoining counties with an elegant line of samples. Save your orders for him. He not only handles good goods, but will offer you inducements.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. Church, South, Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public. For sale by M. Cravens.
